D. B. JENKINS MURDERED AT CLAY

Slayer Grabbed by Officer and Hustled to the County Jail at Dixon

Clay, Ky., 23--This city is greatly stirred up tonight over a cold blooded shooting Sunday, in which Daniel B. Jenkins, a well known restaurant man, was the victim of three pistol shot wounds, inflicted by White Pemberton, also a well known business man.

The men were rivals in business and the tragedy occurred shortly after they had made a futile effort to patch up differences of several years' standing. That Jenkins was unprepared for such an attack is evidenced by the fact that he was holding the reins of a horse when the fatal shots were fired. It is understood the murderer will plead self-defense. Pemberton was arrested directly after the shooting and was hustled to the county jail at Dixon. He refused to throw any light upon the nature of his quarrel with Jenkins.

The shooting occurred on one of the principal business corners of the town. The men had returned from a ride into the country yesterday morning. As they stopped their horse at Main and Elm streets, Jenkins was seen to raise up and strike Pemberton in the face with his fist. According to the best reports, Pemberton did not strike a blow in return. Both were seen to step out of the buggy on opposite sides. Jenkins had one hand on the front wheel of the buggy and in the other hand he held the reins of the horse. Pemberton whipped a revolver from his pocket and quickly fired at the man across the buggy from him.

The shot entered his lungs just above the heart. Jenkins fell and as he did so, writhing in apparent agony, Pemberton fired two more shots which entered Jenkins' back. The last two shots were fired underneath the bed of the buggy and, according to one eye witness, Pemberton had to stoop down in order to get unobstructed sight with his revolver. Jenkins was stretched on his side when the last two shots were fired which entered his back above the heart. It is said that either one of the three shots would have proven fatal.

Pemberton and Jenkins has been competitors here in the restaurant business for several years. Their stores were in the same block and they were only a few doors apart. It is said that an unusual jealousy would spring up between them whenever either seemed to be getting the best of it in the trade they were accorded by their townsmen. To all appearances the troubles over their business had come to an end early yesterday when they were seen to get into a buggy they hired from a livery stable and drive into the country.

It is denied that either was intoxicated, but it has been ventured that the imbibing of the spirits may have had the effect of making them forget the mending of their old breach over their business. Three or four men were standing on the corner when the shooting occurred. Boyd Vaughan of Dixon gave the best relation of the affair when the coroner's inquest was held here last night. Vaughan was standing within ten feet of the buggy when the shooting took place.

There is much sentiment here against Pemberton because of the fact that he continued to fire after his victim fell to the ground. Pemberton is a man of family and has a wife and two children. He is 35 years old. Jenkins was unmarried and 28 years of age. Pemberton was non-committal when approached in his jail cell last night. He refused to make any statement about the affair.

THE PIANO CONTEST CLOSES

Saturday Afternoon at Six O'clock Who Will be the Lucky Winner

The Record-Press Prize Contest closes Saturday evening at six o'clock. The count will be made immediately after by Senator Maxwell, J. B. Orme and J. D. Asher.

Promptly as the town clock strikes six o'clock the voting will stop and the box placed in the hands of the judges, who will at once commence the count.

Our foreman failed to change the reading notice on another page that was printed last week, saying the contest closes Saturday week, which was true then. But once for all remember it closes on Saturday of this week, Oct. 29, when the winner will be awarded this fine piano by the judges, as will be the other prizes in line and by reason of the strongest vote.

Get your votes in for your candidate before the clock strikes six Saturday if you expect to help her win the prize.

As the Marion Bank closes Saturday before the contest closes for the convenience of all we will on Saturday morning, place the ballot box in the drug-store of Haynes & Taylor, where it will remain until the Judges take charge of it at six o'clock that evening. Remember the contest closes day after to-morrow, Saturday, October 29.

A SCRAP IN JAIL

One day last week there was considerable stir on the streets when it was known the only two prisoners in the county jail were in a "scrap." They were: Horning put in several weeks ago for bootlegging whiskey and Jno. Roberts, put in last week for cursing his father.

By some oversight a hatchet had been left in the jail that Horning used pretty freely over the head of young Roberts who had been cursing him and spitting in his face.

TEACHERS ASSOCIATION AT FRANCES

Saturday Oct. 22 a Successful Coming Together and Enjoyed by all Who Attended

The house was called to order by President M. F. Pogue. After a song in which the visitors joined, the president delivered the welcome address, which made all feel thrice welcome. Mr. T. F. Newcom responded in a few well chosen words.

The following teachers were then enrolled: Misses Jennie Clement, Marion Richards, Maude Richards, Lizzie Glenn and Lula B. Wheeler, and Messrs M. F. Pogue, T. F. Newcom, Lewis Matthews, H. R. Matthews, and John E. Franks. After the enrollment of teachers the regular program was rendered.

Every teacher responded when his or her name was called.

Mr. Lewis Matthews very ably discussed "Plans For The Betterment of The Country Schools." He thinks the first requisite is a good teacher, then to grade the schools and secure unity and harmony between patrons, pupils children. The subject was discussed by Miss Maude Richard and Messrs Pogue and Newcom.

Miss Lizzie Glenn read a very interesting paper on Literature in the Grades. She gave many practical suggestions.

Miss Marion Richards discussed: "Nature Study in the County Schools." She had carefully prepared her subject and showed how important it was.

Miss Lula Wheeler discussed "Teaching Children to Study."

J. C. Hardin being absent Rev. Thompson, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Frances, ably discussed "Material for Moral Lesson." He would use the Bible, biography (of great men) Literature--ex. Dickens' Works, Current Literature, and School and Home Occurrences.

Miss Jennie Clement gave plans for work that should be accomplished in Language in the first three grades, and helpful devices for same plans.

The subject "How to Secure Better Attendance" was discussed by several. The teachers report better attendance this year than last.

In discussing special day programs Mr. Newcom thought they should be held at the beginning of the school that patrons, pupils and teachers might become better acquainted early in the school year.

Mr. M. F. Pogue led the discussion on "School Furniture." He thought that the district should have better furniture for their schools. Several complained of not having seating capacity for pupils in attendance. "Practical Aids For Teaching History" was discussed by Mr. Roy Matthews, Mr. Pogue and Mr. Lewis Matthews.

After discussing F. D. E. A. several teachers made known their intentions of attending.

On motion of Pres. M. Pogue the papers read by Misses Richard, Glenn and Wheeler and the papers of the Association are to be published in the Record-Press. The teachers present wish to thank the good people of Frances and neighboring communities for their generous hospitality for such a bountiful dinner, and for their presence.

WOODMEN AT LOUISVILLE SUNDAY

Seven Thousand Eighth Hundred Tyros made Woodmen Members at One Time.

One of the largest class initiations ever held in the world by a secret order took place Sunday afternoon at the Armory when 7,800 new members were received into the Woodmen of the World. Ten thousand men were present in the inclosure when Gov. Augustus E. Wilson delivered an address welcoming the visitors from various neighboring States to Kentucky. The exercises were opened with an invocation offered by the Rev. Dr. E. Y. Mullins.

Gov. Wilson was introduced by J. T. Funk, Chairman of the Committee on Arrangements, and in his address of welcome said in part:

"There is no more impressive sight than a gathering so vast which is moved by a common generous purpose. It is one of the most impressive things that can be seen by the eye of man, and is a wonderful illustration of the power of co-operation."

"By the genius of those who founded this organization, more than 50,000 men have been brought together, all inspired with one great purpose—to benefit man-kind."

We're Glad You Came.

"Visitors, neighbors, friends we greet you and welcome you. You are welcome to Kentucky and trust you will find that all the people have open hearts ready to welcome you and glad that you have come."

After the address of welcome, the uniformed degree team Toledo, Ohio, led in the initiation exercises. It was impossible to put through each member of such a large class so only one candidate, in the person of Mayor W. O. Head, was selected "to ride the goat" while the remainder of the candidates looked on and saw how the thing was done.

The initiation exercises concluded the afternoon program.

Meeting Last Night

The open meeting at the armory last night was well attended about 5,000 persons being present. Before the speaking commenced the sovereign officers and guests were driven around the aing in carriages while a band played "My Old Kentucky Home," "Dixie" other popular airs.

A feature of the program was the presentation of Maj. Gen. John C. Yates, of Omaha, of bequests to five children who were in the parade as representatives of Beechwood camp of Louisville.

The little ones were Sadie Weatherly, Douglas Roulston Anne Sage, Roberta Roulston and Master Morris Sage.

Maj. Gen. Yates spoke of the great fraternal work being done by the Woodmen of the World.

Welcomed to Louisville.

J. T. Funk presided and introduced the visitors to Louisville. Mayor Head said in part: "I had intended to turn the city over to you but when I awoke this morning I found that a great army of Woodmen had already taken possession. It means much to a nation to have such a fraternal order as this."

It means that in union there is strength.

"Through such an organization men get to know one another better, and as they get to know one another better they love humanity more. If it were not for such organizations I believe that this world of ours would be more selfish. I wish to assure you, one and all, that you are cordially welcome in Louisville."

The members of the growing organization from Marion, Lola and other points took passage about fifty strong, for the concentration at Princeton Saturday morning when in three sections of twelve coaches each they were conveyed to Louisville.

It had been the expectation to initiate six thousand new members, but the estimate was over run and seven thousand-eight hundred took upon themselves the obligation.

All of the boys were pleased with their trip and very much impressed by the largest crowd ever coming together in fraternal work.

NOTICE

There being danger of an epidemic of diptheria in our community.

It is ordered by the County Board of Health that all schools in the city of Marion be dismissed and that Sunday schools and all other public places where children congregate be closed. And that all children under the age of four years be and are hereby prohibited from appearing on the street or any public highway. Adults may attend Sunday school and church at their pleasure.

T. ATCHISON FRAZER, Health Officer.

The Kentucky State Journal, edited by former governor J. C. W. Beckham, reaches out in prophecy and fore-knowledge claiming to see through Dr. Cook's north pole story and predicting the failure of Wellman to cross the Atlantic in his airship "America," but he could not see or at least he did not foretell that his refusal to withdraw his name before the Legislature as a candidate for the United States Senate meant the election of Mr. Bradley or most any other republican to the place. Had he with-drawn when he and the whole party saw defeat staring him in the face the voice of Congressman Ollie M. James would now be ringing throughout the halls of the Senate chamber and the party would have been at peace. And now he is for Mr. McCreary for Governor, which means "there is something dead up the creek" and the smell sufficient to make true democrats look a leedle oud, lest they have a repetition of the 1908 performance in 1912 "When thieves fall out an honest man knows his own but when they go back together and are singing "Hail Hail the bands all here," there is a --ll of a trip brewing up Salt river for the old ship.

A VISIT TO DAWSON SATURDAY

The Most Popular and Best Patronized Watering Place in Old Kentucky or the South

For a little rest, but mainly to visit our good friends, Rev. S. L. C. Coward and his estimable wife the editor and his wife took passage on the I. C. on last Saturday morning for Dawson, arriving there at one o'clock in the afternoon returning Monday morning.

On our arrival, that we might be with our good friends we were directed to the home of Mrs. News, where they were boarding and glad we were as with the aid of her daughter, Miss Lucy, we were treated to everything good to eat known to the best house keepers of the State that has never been surpassed in the culinary art.

A great and glorious surprise for us was the fact that a revival meeting was in progress at the beautiful, new Methodist chapel, being conducted by Rev. H. E. Draper of Missouri, an Evangelist of note throughout a great portion of the South, a nephew of Bro. Coward and a man we have loved and recognized as one of the great preachers of the South.

Truly this short visit was made a pleasant one to both of us for in this good town there are as many good and hospitable people to the square yard as in any other spot on earth. Home first, but next to it we tip our hat to Dawson.

While there we visited friend Ferguson of the Dawson Tribune, the cleanest prettiest sheet put out to day in Kentucky, and proud were we to note around his office signs that help the editor to live, liberally patronized by job work.

Dawson, notwithstanding her sixty thousand summer visitors having nearly all returned home, is a live town and could well live without them. She boasts now, what Marion has not, a water works under construction, flouring mill, six large hotels, a handle factory, two hickory mills, ice plant, planing mill, two light plants, High school, four churches, a great number of up-to-date stores, no bar rooms and a splendid citizenship.

We were indeed pleased with our trip and to dear Bro. Coward and his dear wife, Mr. and Mrs. McCauley, Mrs. News and her daughter, Miss Lucy, we are particularly thankful for their so many courtesies. We also desire to compliment the people of Dawson on their good fortune at having with them the present year two of the noblest Christian characters we have ever known. In all the towns they have ever lived the people of all churches are ready to follow them up and proclaim them blessed.

Come and see the great cooking wonder at our store all next week. You have a chance to get a Souvenir Set of Ware Free. See large advertisement in this paper. T. H. COCHRAN & Co.

SOME DREAMFUL CONFECTIONS

Hobble skirts cost money, when they set right. The home maides thing under the canopy is a home-made hobble dress. You know that yourself. Theatrical New York is all hobbling and toddling. You should see the dreamful confections, filmy and diaphanous and just a bit contracted about the ankles, that are the sartorial ecstasy of "Madame Sherry." These creations are an apotheosis, an idealization of the hobble craze, with the illogical hideousness mercifully veiled, the irrational pedal skimpiness disguised under overhanging frou frous of floating fluff. Even your husband would like the hobble dresses in "Madame Sherry," Madame.

If you hobble your feet you must hobble your heads. You know that, don't you, dear dames and demoiselles? You mustn't look top-heavy. With your ankle department producing the effect of having been drawn through a curtain ring, your coiffure mustn't be big and blowzy and out of proportion.

As we are instructed in physics, our "line of direction" should fall within its base," sartorially speaking. Hence, one must needs hobble one's hair.

HOBBLER WOMEN ARE CARRIED TO A DANCE

Gary, Ind., Oct. 20.—Five helpless women were carried upstairs last night, one at a time, into the residence of Carl Schmidt in Gary, so they could attend a hobble skirt party given by him.

George Clinton was the man who played the role of Jean to these half dozen Saphos. Clinton is built for the part. He weighs 275 pounds and stretches the tape to 6 feet 4 inches.

An acceptance to the hobble skirt party required that the guest wear a dress of that design.

Trouble began to accumulate as the guest arrived, for Mr. and Mrs. Schmidt live on the second floor of the apartment at Sixth and Jefferson streets.

It is a physical impossibility for a woman draped in a hobble skirt to climb steps, and the host was in despair until he thought of Clinton and the humane elevator immediately got on the job.

It was fun the first two trips, but after that things began to get serious for Clinton. He was puffing like a donkey engine as he deposited his third fair burden on the second floor. He was groaning and breathless as he set the fourth safely down. As he staggered up the steps making the fifth ascent, he would have sworn that he had climbed to Masonic temple roof before he reached the landing.

Clinton will probably be in big demand at similar parties in the future.

While women cannot climb in hobble skirts, they can dance. Nothing can keep women from that. In order to keep down the pace of the escorts in the steps, the men were also hobbled with blue ribbon which matched the overalls that each wore.

The feature of the menu was "chicken a la hobble."

PREDESTINATION

Below we give a little clipping from an article in the New York Weekly Witness of October 5, 1910. The article is headed, What is Predestination?

"Judas Iscariot and priests and Pilate acted on their own responsibility and under the guidance of their own evil natures in putting Jesus to death. They were under no sort of compulsion to commit that wickedness" but the fact that they would do so had been known to God before the world was created and it entered into His plan for the regeneration of the human race."

In referring to the above, we are led to believe that under the law of perfect freedom, persons should have and the power, privilege and opportunity of doing differently from what they have done.

Now if such was in Gods plan for the above parties to do as they did, all having been foreknown predetermined in His plan for regeneration of the human race, we should think, that, the power or privilege to do otherwise from that which they did, was denied them, in consequence of this foreknowledge, and predetermination.

Hence, if the above be true, we do as we do because we could not possibly have done otherwise.

In the Freedom of the Will we having the power to do or avoid doing a thing, to keep or to violate the law, the choice we may make or whether we will violate or keep the law cannot be truly foreknown, otherwise we would simply be creatures of fate—

We do as we because we could not do otherwise.

Foreknowledge would destroy our Freedom of making a different choice from that which was foreknown.

A VERY INTERESTING LETTER

From our Little Friend Homer Walker, now a Resident With his Parents at Memphis

Memphis, Tenn.,—Dear friend Mr. Calmes:—I thought I would write you and my little school-mates a letter and have it published in the dear old Press if you think it worth publishing.

There is a great difference in Memphis and a little place like Marion although I will never go back on Marion.

I live in a two-story house and when I have nothing else to do I sit out on the veranda and watch the street cars as they pass by every five minutes, and also automobiles and everything you can imagine. I am going to school havn't missed a day except the first two weeks I missed on account of vaccination. Every child has to be vaccinated before they can go to school. We have a nice Graded school. The pupils enroll 739. There are fourteen schools in Memphis. We have a grand Library, it is situated near the center of Memphis and belongs to all the schools.

It is very amusing to hear the fire alarm and to see so many children pattering down the iron fire escapes.

I went up town last evening with papa, and while sitting on Court square I looked up and saw the great sky scraper which is the largest and latest in the South, it is eighteen story high; then I looked around in Court square and saw 150 squirrels scampering around and they would come up and eat out of my hand. Then I went over to Confederate park which is on the river side; I saw several fine steam boats and a large war vessel which has been anchored here for some time on account of low water and I looked down the grand old Mississippi and saw the next largest bridge in the world. I wish some of my little playmates were here to go with me to the zoo. It is about seven miles from here, you can go out there and back for ten cents. We are going down in Arkansas on a hunting trip pretty soon and if this doesn't find the waste basket I will write again.

Mr. Calmes we only have one fight a week at our house and that is on Friday when we all make a rush for the Press. For fear of tiring you all I will close. With love and best wishes to all.

Your little friend,
HOMER WALKER.

ANOTHER WOMAN CURED

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Black Duck, Minn.—"About a year ago I wrote you that I was sick and could not do any of my housework. My sickness was called Retroflexion. When I would sit down I felt as if I could not get up. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and did just as you told me and now I am perfectly cured, and have a big baby boy." — Mrs. ANNA ANDERSON, Box 19, Black Duck, Minn.

Consider This Advice. No woman should submit to a surgical operation, which may mean death, until she has given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made exclusively from roots and herbs, a fair trial.

This famous medicine for women has for thirty years proved to be the most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism. Women residing in almost every city and town in the United States bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It cures female ills, and creates radiant, buoyant female health. If you are ill, for your own sake as well as those you love, give it a trial.

Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

OBITUARY

Miss Linnie Bell Hunt was born October 4th 1893, and died August 21st 1910. Age 16 years 10 months and 17 days. She professed religion at Pleasant Hill church during the meeting of 1908, and joined the church at that place Aug. 18th and was to have been baptised the eleventh day of Sept. which was the Second Sunday in Sept. but on Saturday evening August 10th about 8 o'clock she was taken with severe pain in her side. The doctor was called in, but could give her no relief, at about 7 o'clock Sunday morning she passed away.

Her spirit went to God who gave it. Her body was laid to rest in the Pleasant Hill cemetery on Monday morning to await the call of the Lord on the great Resurrection mornig.

The funeral service was conducted by the writer in the presence of a very large audience of sorrowing friends.

How soon the change! Just no later than Thursday night before she joined the church. We realize it to be a great loss to the church. Sister Linnie was a very bright, cheerful girl, and evidently would have made a very useful member in the church. Her Sunday school teacher says she generally had the best lesson of any one pupil in the class. She took great delight in sacred music and had gotten to be a very good organist. She was taking music lessons at the time of her death, and had become so enlisted that she said to her mother a few days before her death, that she would love to be a singing Evangelist. On the evening before her death she and her uncle, Josie Hunt sang and played several songs, and her father said she seemed to sing that last evening of her life with more strength and a sweeter voice than at any time in life.

We realize the family, and the community miss sister Linnie. One of God's bright jewels has been taken away.

To us the loss is very great, but to her it is great gain, her troubles are all over. If she were to speak to us from her high and lovely home she would say, weep not father and mother, brothers, sisters and friends, my sufferings and sorrows have ended, all is peace, rest and love. Then cheer up dear friends in hope of meeting her on the other shore. J. R. CLARK.

From Hon. Jno. W. Blue

To the voters of Crittenden county:

I am a candidate for the office of county Judge, subject to your approval and I shall greatly appreciate your support if you deem me worthy. On account of the limited time before the election I will not have an opportunity of seeing you all and take this method of announcing my candidacy.

A terrible storm raged through Florida last week at the rate of seventy-five miles an hour.

Cholera is spreading in Italy. During the last twenty-four hours sixteen new cases have developed and eleven deaths from the disease in the same period.

Judge Walter Evans in the federal court for the western district of Kentucky, remanded back Joseph Wendling charged with the murder of Alma Kellner.

Counsel for Wendling sought to transfer the case to the federal court on the grounds that Wendling being an alien is entitled to a jury, one half of which shall be aliens.

An unintentional compliment was paid Congressman A. O. Stanley when the jury returned a verdict of not guilty in the recent circuit court at Henderson in the case of the commonwealth against Mrs. Zora Eblin for the murder of her husband when a bystander remarked. "If I was a juror in such a case and Stanley was for the defense I would stop my ears with cotton or do as this jury has done, for the is invincible."

AFTER
FOR YEARS

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Brookville, Ohio. "I was sick for years while passing through the Change of Life and was hardly able to be around. After taking six bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I gained 20 pounds, am now able to do my own work and feel well."—Mrs. M. D. LA DOR, Park Rapids, Minn.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotic or harmful drugs, and today holds the record for the largest number of actual cures of female diseases we know of, and thousands of voluntary testimonials are on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., from women who have been cured from almost every form of female complaints, inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion and nervous prostration. Every suffering woman owes it to herself to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

If you want special advice write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for it is free and always helpful.

T. J. Scaggs, former Marshall of Clarkston, Ky., was most foully murdered almost in the shadow of the jail at Henderson one night last week. The suspect is Chester Fentress, a self confessed horse thief who was hand cuffed and in the custody of Marshall Scaggs. Fentress who was apprehended a few days after confessed to being a horse thief, but denied any knowledge of the killing, but is held without bail just the same. The supposition is that Fentress had an accomplice and that the twain is responsible for the atrocious murder.

FAMOUS PEOPLE
BY FANNIE M. LOTHROP

MADAME CALVÉ

"The Queen of Song."

SARA BERNHARDT, when asked who was the first actress in the world, answered with charming self-forgetfulness: "Calvé is the greatest artist of us all." Beautiful, piquant, buoyant, natural and unaffected as an unspoiled child, Calvé has a seriousness, an intensity and a loyalty of purpose that the world little realizes.

The daughter of a Spanish father and French mother, she was born in the school at Aurillac where she spent her early years. In the convent attention until one day a famous musician with the ear of a prophet heard the wondrous possibilities in her untrained voice. His enthusiasm was contagious and young Emma, mother sent her to Paris to study. The death of her father made it necessary for her to turn her singing into money. Those were bitter, hard days for her in Paris, and one day under the scourge of need she sought a position to sing in a café chantant. She could not sleep the night she made this resolution, and rising early in the morning she went alone to see the conductor. To her dismay and disappointment she was rejected, though she sang her choicest arias in her sweetest ways and she went away sorrowing with the sad words ringing in her ears: "You'll never do for a café chantant. It takes great talent to succeed here." But she recovered from this cruel shock and continued her studies heroically with serene confidence in the final outcome.

In 1883 she made her debut in Brussels as Marguerite in "Faust". It was not a triumph, for her acting was cold and amateurish; but she secured other engagements in Paris. She was then nineteen, unhappy, ill in mind and body, and went back to her native mountains to recuperate or to die. Here she read Balzac, saw through the pages of the great author the pulsing heart of humanity with its sufferings and joys, hopes and fears, successes and failures; she sounded new depths in her own soul and as she says: "From a child I became a woman" — then she became a real actress.

Her Suzer in "L'Amico Fritz" in Rome in 1891 and Santuzza in "Cavalleria Rusticana" a year later placed her high among the stars of contemporary singers, and after ten years of tireless effort she received her reward, but, she says with a tearful sigh of regret: "it came so late". Carmen with her was a creation; others had sung the part and acted it, but they seemed pale, anaemic studies compared with the real flesh and blood, loving, reckless, dashing, fascinating and beautiful heroine of Bizet's opera as portrayed by Calvé.

TO ESCAPE MOB ADMITS MURDER

In Six Minutes is Sentenced to Death by Electrocution in State Prison

Jackson, Ky., Oct. 20.—Accepting sentence of death by electrocution rather than face probable hanging at the hands of a mob, Charles Little today confessed and pleaded guilty in court to the murder of Matthew Crawford, who was ambushed at his distillery near this city last Tuesday night.

Tonight Little is in jail at Lexington, whither he was rushed under guard immediately after sentence was passed on him.

The judicial proceedings against Little were among the shortest on record. Warned that Crawford's friends had planned to lynch him after Mrs. Little had told officials that her husband killed the distiller, the prisoner confessed and asked immediate trial.

The Crawford adherents were attending the dead man's funeral. The circuit court being in session, a jury was impaneled, Little formally pleaded guilty and six minutes later he was sentenced to death.

Mountaineers who had followed Judge James Hargis, Crawford's uncle, when that feudist was in his glory, flocked to Jackson late yesterday and last night. Assembled in a darkened storeroom in which not one ray of light was allowed to penetrate, they discussed the killing and heard the story of V. G. Mullikin of Lexington, who, with bloodhounds, had tracked Little after the murder. The latter revealed to them the confession of Mrs. Little, who told Mullikin that the prisoner killed Crawford because the distiller refused to give whiskey. The feudist had planned to string up Little and by tortured force a statement revealing the names of his supposed confederates, the first reports of the killing having it that three men and a woman were concerned.

Assured that only Little was responsible they dispersed from the meeting in the dark but carried their arms openly about the streets today and let it be known that speedy punishment must be the lot of Little.

The confession and sentencing of the culprit followed and tonight the town is quiet.

RECORD-PRESS PIANO CONTEST

Closes Saturday October 29 at six o'clock P. M. Just Nine more Days to Work

The Record-Press Piano Contest will close next Saturday week at six o'clock p. m., after which the ballot box will be placed in the hands of the judges and the count made which will perhaps last but a couple of hours, as there is known to be but two active contestants for the grand prize, the others having all dropped back since the last count. Of course these other candidates will come in for the other five nice $10.00 and $15.00 prizes and it behooves them to get a move on themselves as they are all worth winning.

$1.00 brings 500 votes.
$5.00 brings 5,000 votes
$10.00 brings 15,000 votes
$20.00 brings 40,000 votes
$25.00 brings 60,000 votes

This means these votes will be allowed to any one turning in these amounts and be sent to as many yearly addresses as the number of dollars represent.

The time is short and a failure upon your part to work while there is time might lose your friend the piano or one of the other nice prizes.

THE AERIAL DERELICT

When wicked and malicious aspersions begin to assail the record of Dr Cook, a couple of his votaries in this city cheered him with a message breathing faith and encouragement. Back came the word of uplift from the maligned hero: "Thanks for expression of confidence. Time will show that it is not misplaced."

Much the same need of aid in a dark hour must be felt by Walter Wellman, whose overseas venture has ended in a commonplace rescue, while the craft, to which he had pinned his hopes, soars majestically into space an aerial derelict.

We can all rejoice that this novel attempt "to sail through the air, across water 3,000 miles" came to no catastrophic close, while, at the same time, we may wonder that it should be necessary for his backers to protest, again and again, his perfect sincerity, his courage and his skill.

For, be it remembered, the disinclination to take this jaunt with a traveling balloon as a serious contribution to the science of aviation; the evident and general disposition to treat the whole matter as a freak of publicity, amazing, rather than appalling, is not to be denied and cannot be overlooked. Some people believed they could detect an unnecessary amount of attitudinizing; they regarded the Spitzbergen adventure in the light of a trial balloon, and to-day they are nodding their heads wisely and waggishly to the tune of "I told you so!"

Into that phase of the unlucky attempt we do not care to enter. Mr. Wellman has met a misadventure, and what is worse, a disappointment, with such pluck, fortitude and resourcefulness as it would be ungracious to question. Our concern is only with utility of the flight in the event of its success. Spectacular it would have been, without doubt, but serving a good and useful purpose—hardly? As Samuel Johnson remarked of the bear that danced on its hind legs: "But why should he do it?"

It was Mr. Wellman's notion, set forth in the New York Times, that he was about to advance the cause of international peace, by making "armed conflict almost inconceivably terrible and ruinous." Not as agogies, but as armadas, he saw the aerial fleets of the future. Such was, in fact, the prophetic view of the poet laureate, who "saw the heavens fill with commerce argosies of magic sails, Pilots of the purple twilight, dropping down with costly bales;

Heard the heavens fill with shouting, and there rained a ghastly dew From the nations' airy navies grappling in the central blue."

And to the happy realization of nobler half of that vision much is being done in these later days, and never more than when, on Sunday last, the Clement-Bayard, a dirigible balloon, made a six-hour trip from Compiegne, near Paris, to London with seven passengers.

That was, emphatically, a feat worth while. But it made no noise. It was blanketed by the better-advertised exploits of Whittington—we beg pardon, Wellman and his cat.

MEN FLEE WHEN GIRLS TELL TALE

White Slave Case Exposed at Paducah—Prominent Men Sought by Officers

As a direct result of the recovery of Ethel Vinson and Marie Blalock, the two fourteen year-old girls who were found near Grand Forks Wednesday afternoon by Chief of Police McCullon, of Kuttawa, warrants were sworn out before Judge William Patterson at Murray yesterday afternoon against nineteen prominent men in the farming district, who have had more or less serious relations with the two girls. Several of the men, for whom the police are now searching, are said to be married, and besides the more serious charge, they will also be tried for the alleged furnishing of liquor to the two girls.

George Tidewell, the itinerant photographer, who was their companion during the five days spent in the cabin on the shores of the Tennessee was arraigned before Judge Patterson yesterday morning and after the affidavits of the two girls had been read, was held in bond of $500 to await the action of the grand jury. He will be charged with the unlawful enticing and kidnapping of the girls for the purpose of placing them in houses of ill-fame in St. Louis or Kansas City, the girls declaring that he promised that he could find positions for them there. Tidewell maintains that he is innocent of the charges brought against him. "I did not meet the girls until the day after they left their homes," he declares. "I then tried to persuade them to return home, but the girls said that they wouldn't do so and wanted to travel with me and see some of the country. I merely took them with me as solicitors in my photograph work."

The Vinson girl is said to be an orphan, and when told that she would have to be sent to a reformatory, cried bitterly and revealed the whole story of her relations with young men of the country. She promised, however, to forsake her past waywardness if given another opportunity and she was placed in charge of a probation officer pending a continuation of good behavior. The Blalock girl is the daughter of Robert Blalock, a well-known farmer near Murray, and was returned to his care, with the injunction that her future must be modeled along lines far different from those she has exhibited in the past.

The above is a picture of the Wellington piano to be given away October 29, to the lady securing the greatest number of votes in the Record-Press Prize Contest.

For fear the Company we first traded with would not give us such a piano as we wanted the winner to have, especially as they refused to ship it before the contest was over, that it might be inspected, we ordered this one through the Yates Bros. Agency here and it is now on exhibition at the Yandell-Gugenheim Co's store.

Remember the next count comes off next Saturday week for the ten dollars in gold to be given the one making the greatest gain since the count in July.

THE GREAT AND GRAND MAJESTIC RANGE

THE RANGE WITH A REPUTATION
MADE IN ALL SIZES AND STYLES.

REASONS WHY THE GREAT MAJESTIC YOU SHOULD BUY

1st. It has the reputation of being the best range money can buy.

2nd. It not only has the reputation but IS the best range made, and we will prove this to you if you will let us.

3rd. It is constructed of malleable iron. material you can't beat, and of Charcoal iron, material that resists rust 300 per cent greater than steel, is riveted together air tight. No heat escapes or cold air enters the range, thus uses very little fuel to do perfect work.

4th. The reservoir alone is worth the price of range over any other reservoir made. It boils 15 gallons of water; is heated like a tea kettle, with pocket against left hand lining, and is movable and sets on a frame, hence cannot wear out. When water gets too hot it can be moved away from fire.

Majestic ranges use less fuel; heat more water—and heat it hotter; costs practically nothing for repairs; lasts three times as long; bakes better; easier to keep clean and gives better satisfaction than any other range on the market. If you know positively that the above statements are true, wouldn't you buy a Majestic at once?

WEEKLY TOBACCO

TIDINGS

Estimate of the 1910 Crop of all

Counties in this Stunning District.

Henderson, Daviess, Christian and Graves counties have for years been rivals for the honor of being designated as the biggest tobacco producing country in the State of Kentucky. Each one of the four named counties have in the past twenty years headed the list.

From estimates based on carefully garnered figures gathered by the Cincinnati Enquirer's tobacco staff the 1910 crop of dark tobacco in the four counties above named will foot up as follows:

Henderson county 12,500,000 lbs
Christian county 11,900,000 lbs
Daviess county 9,500,000 lbs
Graves county 7,000,000 lbs

It is only fair to note right here that Daviess county also produces 1,500,000 pounds of burley in this year of 1910—total, 11,000,000 pounds of burley and dark, which falls short of Henderson's production by 1,500,000 pounds.

My own information in regard to Graves county is to the effect that production was greatly curtailed there this year. Nevertheless, can but think the Enquirer underestimates Graves' production in 1910.

The Enquirer places Logan county, as a producer of dark tobacco, ahead of Graves this year by 500,000 pounds.

I am convinced Webster county is, although not so shown by the Enquirer, the list this year. My estimate on the 1910 crop in Webster county is 10,000,000 pounds.

The Enquirer figures up the production of the 1910 crop in the three other counties of this district as follows:

Hopkins county 5,100,000 lb
Union county 5,000,000
Crittenden county 2,300,000 lbs

All of which isn't so far out of the way, as is avouched by the records in this office.

Scott county, according to the Enquirer, of all the counties in Kentucky, produced the biggest crop of 1910 burley tobacco, namely, 12,000,000 pounds.

And to leave off where I began—Henderson county is the biggest producer of tobacco in any county in the state of Kentucky.

STRIPPING TOBACCO

"I actually heard that some few farmers were stripping tobacco," said Mr. Elliot Wednesday. "I can only say I think they are making a great mistake," he continued, "for the main stems in the leaf are soft and sappy yet, especially at the butt ends, and tobacco stripped in that condition will develop mold on the stem and occasion more or less damage to the whole leaf.

"If good members will listen to me," he concluded, "they won't strip any tobacco before the 10 of November. By that time the stem should be sapless and fit to strip and the tobacco can be brought to market in first class condition.

Free Child's Remedy

What mother is not looking for something that will help her children in the little ills of life, something for the stomach trouble and the bowel trouble? Long ago she probably has become convinced that a child cannot readily swallow a pill or a tablet, and that to "break them in half and crush them" is an annoyance; that usually they work too drastically, and are nauseating and too powerful for the little one's stomach.

Any mother who will take the trouble of sending her name and address can obtain a free sample bottle of a remedy that thousands of other mothers are using and now paying for. This remedy is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and the offer of a free trial bottle is open to any mother who has not yet used it. Having used it and convinced yourself that it is what you want, you can obtain it in the future of your druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle, just as so many others are doing, the free sample being simply to convince you of its merits. It is the best way to begin on it. Mrs. L. Davis of 187 W. Harrison street, Chicago, and Mrs. Mary Belford, 1710 Coke street, Louisville, Ky., both started with a free sample and now they write that they have never been without a bottle in the house since.

It is undoubtedly a great family remedy, as it is adapted to all ages, being mild and pleasant to take and yet thoroughly effective. It is especially the ideal remedy for children and women and old folks, who need something pure, mild and natural. It has the advantage of being a thorough laxative and yet contains no harmful properties. Use it for the most stubborn constipation, indigestion, liver trouble, sick headache, sour stomach and such complaints with a guarantee that it will cure.

Dr. Caldwell personally will be pleased to give you any medical advice you may desire for yourself or family pertaining to the stomach, liver or bowels absolutely free of charge. I explain your case in a letter and he will reply to you in detail. For the free sample simply send your name and address on a postal card or otherwise. For either request the doctor's address is Dr. W. H. Caldwell, R. 500 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

BETTER THAN A CURE

It is well to cure a cold, but better to prevent it. As soon as you feel a cold coming on, take one or two "Lane's Pleasant Quinine Tablets." You will not have a cold and the Tablets will leave you feeling better than ever. They cure grip in a few hours 25c. a box at druggists and dealers.

Letter From J. C. Wolf.

Dear Calmes:- Did it ever occur to you how you can put the question mark, but why is it that good old Crittenden does not advertise its advantages. Do you know that thousands of people are looking for homes and are coming South to buy lands and that the train carry them past your door and that they come into Georgia, Alabama and Florida and buy land not half so good new, as some of your old worn out lands, and why do they come? because they buy it cheap. Cheap land is what they want they expect to build them up. Now why have you not organized an Advertising Committee who through the good old Press and other papers would tell to the people the advantages to be gained by settling in Crittenden county. You have got thousands of acres which would be sold cheap and the increased population would help your merchants and you know you have a splendid line of business men in your city and county.

Where can you find better than Will Yandell, Sam Gugenheim, Huston Orme, Bob Haynes, Henry Stone, Gus Thomas, the Pierce family and Tom Cochran, and the good Lord only knows how many more. And where can you show such a line of Attorneys as the Blue, Nunn and James families. are not the reputation of these people sufficient to bring them in. Look at your Banks with Tom, Dave and Jim, and then look at the rest of your good people, including Al and John Pickens, Flannery boys, Cruce family, Deboe family Croft family, Barnett family, Ed Dowell, Forrest Harris, and the Bennett family and God knows how many more then say why you don't tell it to the people that Crittenden county has her arms wide open and that her people are the best. Get John Wilson and Henry Woods and a few other such people to tell it abroad and you will have special excursion trains on the I. C. bringing the people in and they will buy. Get that "Pro Bono Publico" theme started and don't let the people go by your door.

I hope you and all your family are well and happy. I wish you would mail me the Press for the next six weeks to Charlotte, N. C., after that I will be in Richmond, Va., and will write you where to direct. I wish you all the success in the world. I am your good friend,

JNO. C. WOLF.

KENTUCKY SYNOD

IN SESSION

City Full of Delegates From all Parts of the State. A Great Day For the Cumberlands.

The Kentucky Synod of the Cumberland Presbyterian church, went into organization here at seven-thirty o'clock Tuesday night and was the largest and most intelligent body of men and women, ministers and laymen ever congregating in Marion.

All day Tuesday, trains from both north and south brought delegates from all parts of the State, especially noticeable was the large intelligent body of delegates arriving on the north-bound three-thirty train Tuesday afternoon, and as they were congregated on the elevated portion of the I. C. platform waiting for conveyances to the homes assigned them, drew forth the admiration of all the remaining passengers on the train. And before the large crowd was half dispersed, the South bound four o'clock train brought in an equal number from the I. C. L. & N. and Texas.

Great as was the number, they were soon sent to their homes in automobiles, hacks, carriages and busses.

The good town of Marion termed the town of churches, carefully providing for every delegate and member of every church, vying with each other for a share in the honors. Tomorrow, even more delegates than arrived today are expected and homes already provided.

The people of the Methodist church here, realizing the fact that the Cumberland church could not possibly hold the delegates, tendered their church, which was very graciously accepted.

Rev. B. H. Henderson of Leitchfield preached the opening sermon, after which they went into temporary organization under Rev. J. L. Price, the retiring Moderator.

Standing room was at a premium at the Methodist church Tuesday night to hear the impressive sermon by Rev. B. H. Henderson. It was a splendid sermon.

The Baptist congregation kindly tendered their church as did the Methodist, that the work of the various branches of the Synod might go on at the same time. Almost as many if not more delegates arrived Wednesday as did Tuesday and the good people of all denomination are busy in caring for them.
